

Pandemic regulations and an app solution built in hours

A global leader in consumer-packed goods ensured minimal disruption of operations and employee well-being even during emergency lockdown with Acuvate's Return to workplace app

THE CLIENT

A global leader in consumer-packaged goods, producing and distributing a uniquely diverse portfolio of beverages, premium spirits, beer, and wine, and wellness products around the world. With a founding promise to coexist with people and nature, it is one of the most popular brands in its category.

BEFORE THE SOLUTION

- The pandemic had a huge impact on the operations of this multinational behemoth since it involved different offices in various locations
- Local, regional, and national lockdown guidelines made it difficult to coordinate attendance and employee management

CHALLENGES

- Since the lockdown and the pandemic management regulations happened so quickly, the solution had to be developed in record time to ensure minimal disruption of operations
- Seamless experience for faster employee adoption

OBJECTIVES

- Develop an application quickly to help employees stay aware of the lockdown regulations in their region, and plan their work accordingly
- Enable the management to configure employee attendance, seating, and travel
- Arrangements to ensure compliance with existing regulations

SOLUTION

Acuvate's expertise in developing Microsoft Power Platform solutions has been proven once again as we developed the perfect solution that met our customer's requirements. Our app helped employees book slots for working in the office as required, while complying with local attendance and employee rotation regulations.

Features

Administrators

- Configure the slots availability
- Configure seating arrangement.
- Upload floor plans

Employees

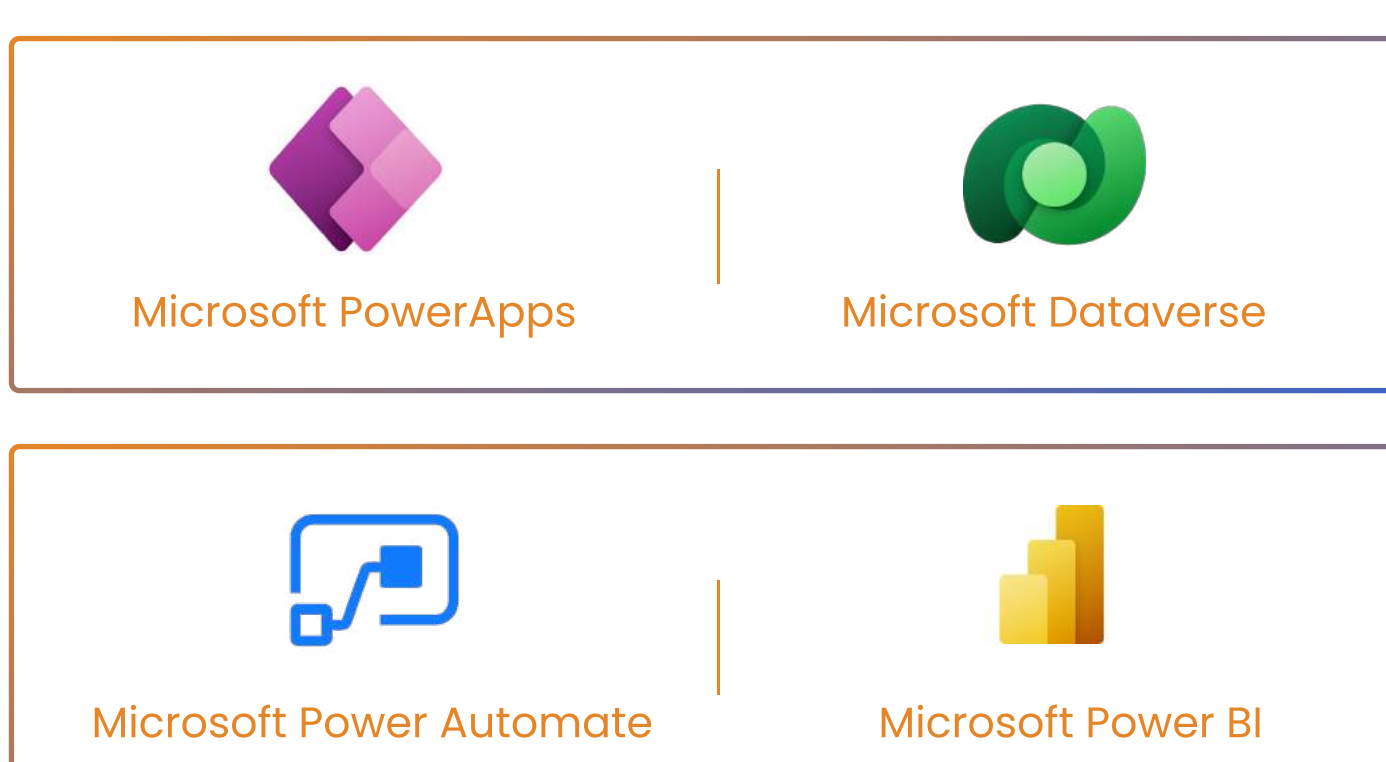

- Able to book a slot
- Can fill in health declarations.
- Able to cancel unrequired slot.

Receptionist (Automated)

- Able to take attendance of the employee.
